DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cooksey (4,986,690).

With regard to claim 2, Cooksey discloses a coupler (10) comprising: an axially elongated body (16) having a closed first end (upper portion) and open second end (lower portion) and a hollow core (22 channel); a body having a threaded portion (20) at the first end capable for attachment to driving tool; a retractable planar keeper (64, 66) adjacent the second end and slidably received within the body, and substantially orthogonal to the elongated body axis; a spring (34) attached to the keeper for urging the keeper to a closed position.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cooksey in view of Selly (US 5,085,281).

With regard to claim 5, Cooksey shows an assembly capable of use as a double-headed tent stake driver and puller comprising: an axially elongated body (16) having a closed first end

Art Unit: 3721

(upper portion) and open second end (lower portion) and a hollow core (22 channel); a body having a threaded portion (20) at the first end capable for attachment to driving tool; a retractable planar keeper (64, 66) adjacent the second end and slidably received within the body, and substantially orthogonal to the elongated body axis; a spring (34) attached to the keeper for urging the keeper to a closed position.

Cooksey lacks a slide hammer. However, Selly teaches a slide hammer (11) to deliver a hammering blow to the top surface of an anvil (12).

In view of the teachings of Selly, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to provide Cooksey with a slide hammer (11) in order to properly deliver a hammering blows to an anvil on the mounting member (col. 1, lines 57-58).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3,4,6 and 7 are allowed over prior art.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 2 and 5 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Refer to attachment for notice of references cited and recommended for consideration based on their disclosure of limitations of the claimed invention.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3721

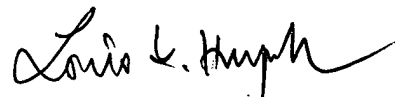

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
